$5000 Fire Loss At Home In GC Sunday Morning

A defective automatic hot water tank was blamed for a fire which caused an estimated $5000 damage Sunday morning at the frame home of John E. Sweeney, 2309 Woodlawn avenue.

Firemen from the Namekoi and downtown stations were at the scene from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. The heater, firemen said, touched off a large cardboard box filled with Christmas decorations and the flames spread through the basement.

Damage was set at $3000 to the building and $2000 to the contents. Firemen said they were hampered in fighting the basement blaze because of particularly dense smoke. They donned oxygen masks to enter the house and extinguish the flames with booster hoses.

There was considerable damage to floor joists and the basement stairway as well as smoke damage throughout the house. The loss was only partially covered by insurance.

Record Madison Bridge Income Of $830,699 In '59-60

Earnings and revenue of the Chain of Rocks Bridge soared to an all-time high for the fiscal year ending last April 30, according to the annual report announced by Madison Mayor Stephen Maeras.

The balance sheet on operation of the utility owned and operated by the city of Madison shows tolls of $819,633, a towering gain over the previous accounting period.

The net earnings were $549,796, after deduction of all expenses and fixed obligations from the gross income of $850,699.

The financial statement on Chain of Rocks Bridge operation showed $185,975 as representing the increase in all revenues above that of the accounting period ending April 30, 1959. This is a 29% hike, and the rate of increase in the 21-year operation of the bridge. Last year, gross income was $819,633.

The rise in tolls, Mayor Maeras explained, could be attributed in the main to the toll increase on the Chain of Rocks. "Greatest year in bridge history" was the majority statement.

Manager Plan's Effect On Employees Of City

Are city employees favorably or unfavorably affected when they are asked to consider a council-manager government?

Employees in some areas have feared the change in government would mean a loss of job security. The National Municipal League says just the opposite results—employees obtain better pay and greater job security. The league comments:

"A city manager is on the job full-time with full charge of personnel and budget-making. He comes to his position armed with a knowledge of the city. He needs it if he is to make a good professional record for his city. He is not a part-time politician who is brought in on an offer from a bigger city at a bigger salary."

The league also points out that a city manager is a permanent position and an enthusiastic, willing, experienced staff. This, of course, includes getting them proper compensation.

Opposed, Then Backed Plan

When Brunswick, Me., was considering adoption of the council-manager plan, the city employees published a quarter-page newspaper advertisement against it; a year after adoption, they published a full-page advertisement testifying they never had feared so well.

"When adoption of the council-manager plan is at issue, one of the commonest and phoniest attacks on it is the charge that the city manager probably will fire a lot of the municipal employees."

"Those who propagate such fears do not and cannot even name one city among the 1700 now having the plan in which the coming of the first city manager was followed by wholesale firing. This simply doesn't happen."

Experience In Alton

In Alton, the closest council-manager city of the approach of Granite City, Mayor Graham V. Ward reported for duty as the first city manager in 1957. He has been in the job for three years. He reported that none of the city employees at that time were fired. A 5% pay increase was voted a year and a half ago, and additional raises are currently being considered.

Locally, the Trades and Labor Council has gone on record as opposing the Oct. 24 manager proposal and approving a prepared statement that attacks the plan.

Robbery Victim Fires Shotgun At Bandits

Shotgun blasts were fired at the getaway car in a $75 robbery Saturday night of the highway fruit stand of Vernon Vasquez, 39, on Route 67A, immediately south of the McCormick avenue viaduct.

Vasquez, who was beaten in the robbery, told Madison police he is certain pellets from the two shotgun blasts struck the rear of the bandit couple's car. He is presently under treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a possible skull fracture.

Vasquez, who lives at 2234 Edison street, was alone at the stand about 8:45 p.m. when a man and woman, both colored, arrived in an automobile and fired two shots at him.

When the proprietor reached over a counter to fill a bag, he was struck twice on the head with a heavy object, wielded by the man, and pushed to the rear of the building.

The bandit pair rifled the cash register, taking $75, and then ran outside to their car, driving away south on Highway 67A.

Vasquez grabbed a 16-gauge shotgun while at the rear of the store and rushed outside to fire two shots at the speeding auto. He was unable to give the make or model of the car, but said it was a dark color.

Davis Appeals To City Employees To Defeat Manager

Mayor Davis is conducting a series of meetings with city employees to enlist their support in defeating the city manager proposal on Oct. 24.

The mayor, who commented that the proposal is "definitely against" managerial government, declined to elaborate on his talks before the employees' group, but said his response to his appeal is virtually 100%.

"I'll be making some public statements in the near future," the mayor said, "but now I'm turning to the union representing city employees. I'm asking them to conduct a work-of-the-day campaign and appeal to their friends to vote 'no'."

The mayor said he appeared before the "Firefighters' Union Thursday night and will be meeting with the Policemen, Teamsters and Laborers Unions in the near future."

He added that there has been no solicitation of funds for conducting the campaign against managerial government, but that some employees have offered to contribute.

Mayor Davis is planning to appear before clubs and civic organizations prior to Oct. 24.

MORE ABOUT Manager Plans

managerial government in general on the charge that "it is a device for control of government by a would-be ruling class. The manager plan will decrease active citizen participation rather than increase it."

Discussing the manager, the statement continues "His business will train him to think economically as they do, and he will act as he is trained." It concludes, "Remember that the planners are in reality planning the funeral of democracy."

I beg you to refuse to be one of its pallbearers! Vote No!"

Labor Officials' Comments
Quoting a long list of labor officials who favor the manager plan, the National Municipal League says:

"Since the council-manager form is simply a rearrangement of municipal positions and duties to form a strong unified structure with opportunity to provide experienced professional full-time executives—like school superintendents under school boards—there is nothing about it that is either pro-labor or anti-labor."

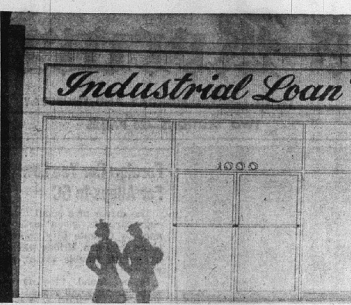

"Labor's disposition toward a municipal government will alter from time to time according to the character of men elected, and this will happen in any form."

"While city employees, organized or otherwise, have reasons to prefer the more capable and attentive full-time management which the council-manager plan encourages, it cannot be soundly claimed that any form is better than another for labor in general."

Donald E. Harrington, New London, Conn., secretary of the Connecticut Central Labor Union, is quoted as saying, "I believe the council-manager plan is a definite improvement."

In another Iowa town, Des Moines, the first city manager found city salaries low and employee morale poor. He brought about equal pay for equal work, improved working conditions, fair procedures for handling grievances, uniform working hours, vacations and sick leave. In addition, he found ways to boost the pay checks by $250,000 a year, a Municipal League survey reveals.

In Illinois, George Blake, Joint Central Trades and Labor Council recording secretary, said, "We greatly opposed the change. It is not so now. We now find that the city officials are probably more fair to labor than the previous group."

Improvement in Treatment
John Schoen, Sioux City, Ia., Trades and Labor Assembly secretary, asserted, "From the standpoint of overall treatment of city employees and the general public, there has been a definite improvement."

During its first five years with the plan, Evanston, Ill., increased salaries $1,000,000, reduced firemen's hours from 67 to 56 and policemen's from 48 to 40, and lowered the tax rate 10%.

Peoria, Ill., adopted the council-manager plan to clean out corruption and imprudent financing. When the cleanup was completed, salaries of police and firemen were up 25% and their hours reduced—and the taxes and debt also were reduced.

Codes Adopted in Galesburg
In a letter to the Galesburg newspaper Feb. 3, 1960, the Galesburg Trades and Labor Assembly president wrote, "We now have a plumbing code, and an electrical code. The building codes are better than they have ever been."

"The unions have requested these codes for a number of years to protect people from inferior building procedures and practices."

The city employees were given a wage increase and inequities of many years' standing were corrected. This in spite of a tax reduction voted by the people. The city is now on a pay-as-you-go basis and is out of the red—this, too, in spite of the tax decrease."

Aware of attempts in some areas to picture managerial government as anti-labor, the International City Managers' Association sent out questionnaires

Contract Finance Corp., the office will make loans ranging from $50 to $500 and will be the only independent finance and personal loan firm in Madison. J. B. "Peter" Berthoester has been named manager.

Harvey Hieken, partner in Hieken's and a member of the Madison Rotary club, said the construction plans were made as part of the club's program of encouraging new businesses and industries.

Area Preparing for Presidential Candidate Kennedy's Visit

Flags, banners and pennants will garland the local communities and Venice's new black-topped Broadway is expected to be completed to serve as the traditional red carpet when the Democratic presidential aspirant, Sen. John F. Kennedy, is here next Monday, Oct. 3.

And a goodly sprinkling of school youngsters will be counted among the numbers on hand to hear and see the Massachusetts senator who seeks to make the White House his home.

The candidate's motorcade, including two buses of newsmen representing the nation's press, will sweep along thoroughfares alive with color and flanked by onlookers. There will be hundreds of Democratic partisans and no doubt some Republicans, the latter just out to see what the opposition looks like and has to say.

GC, Venice Stops
While the focal points, where Sen. Kennedy will give brief talks, will be the Belvedere Village shopping center, Johnson and Nameoki roads, and the lawn fronting the Madison-Venice American Legion club, the excitement and interest will spill over to engulf a wider circle.

Those who keep tabs on such things reported today that the last time the area played host to a presidential candidate was in 1952 when Gov. Adlai Stevenson spoke at Granite City.

According to Walter T. Simmons, Madison County Democratic Party chairman, Sen. Kennedy and his entourage will come here directly from Alton, where he is scheduled to speak at 9 a.m.

Then, following an estimated 35-minute drive to Granite City, there will be a 15-minute address at the Belvedere plaza, beginning at 9:50 a.m.

From there, the presidential candidate cavalcade will travel over Madison avenue with its colorful decorations and its utility poles wreathed in bunting.

Halting of Pollution Mandatory, Economical Method Being Sought

The discussion held here last week between Granite City officials and representatives of the Illinois Department of Public Health made it clear that the Illinois Metropolitan Area has no choice but to comply with the statewide requirement for sewage treatment plants. With 479 such plants already in operation, 61 under construction and 90 more planned, the state's pollution abatement program has reached all but 3.4% of the population.

In response to the explanation of the state's position, assurance was given that efforts by city officials and the Citizens Sewer and Drainage Committee — praised by the Public Health Department for their accomplishments — will continue until local pollution is ended. An example of the progress being made is the master sewer and drainage engineering study which, along with other information, will point the way toward removal of large amounts of storm water and industrial waste from sanitary sewer lines, greatly affecting the remaining pollution problem.

With less sewage to dispose of, this area can plan realistically for the best and most economical approach to halting river pollution. Federal funds should be available to meet part of the cost, further enhancing the prospects for public approval.

The meeting showed that the cause of action set by the state law, A fixed deadline for action can be set, home loans halted and sewer extensions stopped, putting a "strait jacket" on the community and all its residents. But it seems probable that a workable, economical and "sellable" abatement plan can be developed, avoiding the need for drastic state action.

Accurate Determination of Causes Of Death Important To The Living

Madison county does not have the highest murder rate in the nation, but it seems as if such a dubious distinction is invited by the tendency to curtail conducting of autopsies. Effect of numerous autopsies on county finances is often cited in deciding not to order the medical study unless the deceased person's family demands it and pays the cost.

Even in such cases as the recent robbery and fatal beating of a Granite City man, investigating officials said they had to move fast to obtain an autopsy before burial. In this instance, the autopsy failed to pinpoint the cause of death, but in many cases it might have provided an important clue leading to a solution of the crime.

Asking the family whether to proceed with an autopsy seems to be the wrong way to go. The autopsy. The usual result is that if the deceased has been treated recently, a cause of death is given by the physician or deputy coroner. When the physician is not sufficiently sure to sign a death certificate, an inquiry is held, with an official ruling often given without benefit of an autopsy.

At the 1960 seminar of the National Association of Coroners, Dr. Edward Press, Evanston, Ill., public health director and a leading poison authority, said it is probable that scores of people die of poison each year with no one knowing about it. Over 6000 are recorded as dying of poison each year, but many more deaths go unrecognized, he said, warning of the danger of inadequate death investigations. Commenting that this "offers the opportunity to arrange homicides and make them appear as suicides," Dr. Press reminded the coroners that they have entrusted to them "the major power to uncover and prevent future unsuspected poisoning. Although you deal with the dead, you can play a large and leading role in saving the living through careful detective work."

Curbing of still another cause of death can be aided by accurate coroner findings. Dr. Samuel Feinberg, Northwestern University allergist, told the same group that "300 die yearly from acute shock as a result of reaction to a drug, but many are mistakenly attributed to heart attacks or other causes." Such deaths occur mostly in allergic persons, but rarely the first time the drug is administered. The hypersensitivity usually builds up over a period of time. If the prevalence of deaths from a specific drug is noted, corrective steps can be taken by the medical profession.

As brought out at the seminar, the dead are not a dead issue. It is important that causes of death be correctly listed, because the degree of such accuracy affects each and every person now living.

The recipe for a successful policy, it seems, is plenty of alcohol and some adultery.

Steps Can Be Taken To Reduce Likelihood Of Molestation

The knife attack on a local woman while she was at home with two of her children points up the necessity for some type of security procedure for periods when the householder is alone and away. Chain locks for doors afford one method of safely conferring with callers whose mission or identity is unknown.

A good rule to follow is to never take a chance, whether politeness seems to require it or not. This applies to opening one's home to strangers, driving at night with car doors unlocked, walking through dark areas and in any other way becoming unnecessarily vulnerable to attack.

It is unfortunate that there are enemies of society loose in the Quad-Cities and surrounding areas, but facts must be faced and appropriate precautions taken.

Madison Police Bureau Aiding Children From Insecure Homes

The annual report of the Madison police department's juvenile division makes interesting reading in several ways. Statistics compiled during 1959-60 indicate that 12 through 16 are the major problem years; that juvenile law violations cover a wide range, including larceny, fighting and trespassing; Saturday is the most likely day for youngsters to get into trouble; noon to 1 p.m. is the worst hour of the day and 9 to 10 p.m. the worst at night; and that nearly half — 79 of 173 — of Madison juvenile cases involve non-residents.

The report goes on to detail the procedures followed by the juvenile bureau, underlines the need for a juvenile home in Madison county and expresses the police department's belief that no child should be considered delinquent unless the child is a full hearing in the county's family court, with evidence presented and a delinquency finding reached.

A major point in the report is that less initial and repeat cases occur among children whose home life is secure. Those who are denied love and affection from their families often substitute for it with conduct that leads to a summons to the police station.

As pointed out by the bureau, "The child with an unhappy home life needs a lot of help." A large measure of such help has been extended by the juvenile division since it was created in 1956.

Coast Guard Academy Exam Set For Feb. 20

Rep. Melvin Price (Dem. East St. Louis) today announced that competitive examinations for entrance to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy will be held nationwide on Feb. 20 and 21, 1961. These examinations will be given in St. Louis and 122 other cities.

Congressman Price said admission to the Academy is on a national-wide competitive basis. He said that the Academy is interested to write me for details and applications."

Rep. Price said that two candidates from the 24th Illinois District were among the 380 who qualified for appointment to the Coast Guard Academy from among the 3631 applicants who took the examination last Feb. 20.

A candidate for the next examination for the Coast Guard Academy must be single, must have reached his 17th but not his 22nd birthday by July 1, 1961 and must be in excellent physical condition, Price explained.

A high school diploma is the minimum educational requirement, although high school seniors assured of being graduated by June 30, 1961 are eligible to take the examination if they will have at least 15 credits by that time. All applicants must have three units of English, two of Algebra and one in Plane geometry by graduation.

Interested applicants may write to Congressman Price at 224 New House Office Building, Washington 25, D. C., or to his District office, 232 Federal Building, East St. Louis.

Illinois Power Board Declares Dividends

The board of directors of Illinois Power Co., at a meeting last Thursday declared regular quarterly dividends of 51 cents per share on the 4.08% cumulative preferred stock; 53 1/2 cents per share on the 4.26% cumulative preferred stock; 55 1/2 cents per share on the 4.42% cumulative preferred stock; 58 1/2 cents per share on the 4.70% cumulative preferred stock; and 50 cents per share on the common stock of the company.

These dividends are all payable Nov. 1, to stockholders of record on Oct. 1, 1960.

Mozhno Govorit Po-Rusky? Languages In GCHS Air

Foreign languages, the spoken word of another tongue, are no newcomers to the Granite City public schools curriculum in any wise.

Now, this department is being upgraded. In accordance with present-day educational philosophy and educational trends, foreign languages are being introduced at the junior high level for the first time this term.

And Russian is an added entry in the senior high school curriculum.

Mozhno govorit Po-Rusky? No. How about Spanish, German? Translation of the first — "Can you speak Russian?" — is the question.

So, 16 senior high pupils are enrolled in the first-year Russian course. The Cyrillic alphabet is being mastered in which Russian is written.

Soon, according to Assistant Supt. Russell D. Johnson, who is in charge of instruction, new foreign language enrollment, Johnson said, an expert in the field of foreign languages, tape recording devices designed to aid beginners in learning to speak the language.

Such recordings, it is pointed out, provides the pupil facilities to make a taping of his own pronunciation and then play it back, checking it with the master recording. In this manner, he can gain a better understanding of pronunciation and become more fluent in the use of the foreign language.

A special room is being prepared for installation of the laboratory "desks" at the high school, and there will be portable, junior editions, for use at the junior high level.

The so-called laboratories are equipped with headphones, desk sets, corse, manned by the instructor. Installation should begin next month, according to Johnson.

The all-over cost of the mechanical language aides is about $850, however, the school system is obliged to bear 51% of the purchase price.

But, language fills the air in the junior and senior high school scene, with a total of 918 enrolled in foreign language classes out of a total junior-senior enrollment of 3900.

Foreign language courses are optional and indicative of the growing trends toward learning new tongues is the fact that the number in foreign languages represents a strong percentage of the total.

Here's a break-down as to class enrollment in languages offered this new term:

Russian—16, senior high; German, 165, junior high, 49, senior high; Spanish, 300, junior high, 150, senior high; Latin, 103, senior high, 133, junior high.

This picture points up the fact that the juniors are taking more avidly to foreign languages than their secondary school elders.

And this is as it ought to be according to schoolmen who have made a thoroughgoing study of foreign languages. Reports, surveys and studies have shown that an understanding and mastery of foreign language is best obtained at an early age.

Some school systems offer it for 4th, 5th and 6th graders, who appear able better to assimilate it, and there is not as much stress on grammar as under the old system of instruction.

Grammar is not let go by the board, in any wise, however. Familiarity with a speaking knowledge is the principal goal. This holds true, perhaps, in all fields except Latin.

Those who recall the days of sweating over the Latin "cases" and the troublesome conjugations will be happy to learn that today's students of Spanish, German and Russian, too, are not as much concerned with grammatical construction as with facile pronunciation.

Learn the language — as it is properly spoken — and the construction along in a natural course, is more or less the theory.

Three faculty additions have been necessary to meet the swell in foreign language enrollment, Johnson said. An expert in the field of foreign languages, tape recording devices designed to aid beginners in learning to speak the language.

Such recordings, it is pointed out, provides the pupil facilities to make a taping of his own pronunciation and then play it back, checking it with the master recording. In this manner, he can gain a better understanding of pronunciation and become more fluent in the use of the foreign language.

A special room is being prepared for installation of the laboratory "desks" at the high school, and there will be portable, junior editions, for use at the junior high level.

The so-called laboratories are equipped with headphones, desk sets, corse, manned by the instructor. Installation should begin next month, according to Johnson.

The all-over cost of the mechanical language aides is about $850, however, the school system is obliged to bear 51% of the purchase price.

But, language fills the air in the junior and senior high school scene, with a total of 918 enrolled in foreign language classes out of a total junior-senior enrollment of 3900.

Foreign language courses are optional and indicative of the growing trends toward learning new tongues is the fact that the number in foreign languages represents a strong percentage of the total.

Here's a break-down as to class enrollment in languages offered this new term:

This picture points up the fact that the juniors are taking more avidly to foreign languages than their secondary school elders.

And this is as it ought to be according to schoolmen who have made a thoroughgoing study of foreign languages. Reports, surveys and studies have shown that an understanding and mastery of foreign language is best obtained at an early age.

Some school systems offer it for 4th, 5th and 6th graders, who appear able better to assimilate it, and there is not as much stress on grammar as under the old system of instruction.

Grammar is not let go by the board, in any wise, however. Familiarity with a speaking knowledge is the principal goal. This holds true, perhaps, in all fields except Latin.

Those who recall the days of sweating over the Latin "cases" and the troublesome conjugations will be happy to learn that today's students of Spanish, German and Russian, too, are not as much concerned with grammatical construction as with facile pronunciation.

Learn the language — as it is properly spoken — and the construction along in a natural course, is more or less the theory.

Three faculty additions have been necessary to meet the swell in foreign language enrollment, Johnson said. An expert in the field of foreign languages, tape recording devices designed to aid beginners in learning to speak the language.

Such recordings, it is pointed out, provides the pupil facilities to make a taping of his own pronunciation and then play it back, checking it with the master recording. In this manner, he can gain a better understanding of pronunciation and become more fluent in the use of the foreign language.

A special room is being prepared for installation of the laboratory "desks" at the high school, and there will be portable, junior editions, for use at the junior high level.

Assignments Given On Organizing Scout Units

With a goal of at least 15 new cub packs, scout troops and explorer posts in the Cahokia Mount Council, Chairman Wally Orr has given organizing assignments to Joe Arto, Russell Richardson, Harold Bone, Don Simmons, W. J. Sizemore, Pete Carlich, George Bass, Rollin Henn, Paul Kraus, Dr. Leo Coleman, Ralph Long, Jack Wood, Howard Stoppotte, Clyde Bradford, Curtis Stover and Floyd Pitchford.

Other "minute men" are volunteering their services but have not yet taken specific assignments. Efforts to establish more scout units to handle the growing boy population are being led by Orr at the troop level, John Slay for cubbing and Richard Wohlisch for exploring.

Miss Peggy Jean Baumberger And Eugene Dickey Are Wed

Among the first of the early autumn weddings was that Saturday evening of Miss Peggy Jean Baumberger, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baumberger, 1601 Lindell blvd., and Eugene Dickey, son of Mrs. Morris Berger, 4713 Warnock avenue, and the late Eugene H. Dickey.

The ceremony took place at 7:30 o'clock at St. John United Church of Christ on Namekagon road in a setting of candlelight, white flowers and greenery. Rev. Paul Surbey officiated.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace. Floor-length, it featured a sabrina neckline and long wrist-pointed sleeves. Tiers of narrow ruffles extended down from the shoulders to the hem and a jeweled tiara held in place the bride's fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

The attendants, Miss Carol Hoelscher, maid of honor, and Miss Sally Baumberger, a sister of the bride, were dressed alike in identical gowns of pale green delustered satin with anemone green cummerbunds which formed pleated bustles in the back. Feathered hats of emerald green and rosebud veils completed the costumes. They held bouquets of orange and yellow pom poms.

The bride's mother was attired in Dior blue delustered, a sat in and black accessories. Mrs. Berger selected a silver blue dress with white and black accessories. Both had gardenia corsages.

Kenneth Dickey was best man for his brother, and Leon Stromlund, a cousin of the bride, Earl Meek of Edwardsville, and Thomas Keeney of Alton, the bride's uncle, served as groomsmen and ushers.

Mrs. Isabel Schmidt was organist, and the soloist, Mrs. Surbey, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A wedding reception was held at the church directly after the service.

The bride and groom are graduates of the Granite City high school. They will make their home in Lynn, Mass., where Mr. Dickey, who is in the U.S. Navy, is stationed.

Granite City Tops Madison In Shrine Benefit, 7-0

Cross-Town Battle Decided By 2nd Quarter Bjorkman-Schuman TD Pass

Possession is nine-tenths of the law. It also helps win football games, as Granite City high school's Warriors discovered in defeating Madison 7-0 in the annual Shrine benefit game played before an overflow crowd on the Trojan gridiron Friday night.

The score was an exact duplicate of the final point total in last year's game and gave Granite City permanent possession of the Shrine traveling trophy but the game was sadly lacking in any real excitement following the only scoring play of the evening.

The mosquitoes which swarmed into the area following late afternoon showers appeared to be more bloodthirsty than did the traditional inter-city opponents, or at least more capable of inflicting damage on their human adversaries on the playing field and in the stands than were the Red and Green on each other.

In the game's one decisive play Warrior quarterback Bert Bjorkman, a nervous young man playing in his first varsity game, recovered from a bad case of fumbling early in the second period and found left end Pat Schuman in the clear on the Madison six-yard line.

Schuman caught the left-handed signal caller's aerial just below his waist and scampered the remaining distance for a six score. John Allen added the extra point on a pidge with 10:10 left in the quarter.

The touchdown drive was all Bjorkman-Schuman. Prior to the scoring play the Warrior quarterback hit Schuman with an aerial which covered 15 yards and was good for a first down, then followed with another toss to Schuman on the Madison 13. The TD pass and run play covered the final 13 yards.

The Trojans staged their only scoring threat of the evening in the only minutes of the first period. Granite City, receiving the opening kickoff, fumbled on the first two plays from scrimmage.

Mercer, State Savings Advance To Inter-City Cup Finals With 4-3, 8-5 Victories Yesterday

A new playoff champion in the Southwestern Illinois Inter-City Baseball League became a certainty yesterday afternoon at Lee Park here as Mercer Funeral Home of Granite City rallied for three runs in the seventh inning to defeat 1959 Illinois McAteer Glass of East St. Louis in the Blue division wrap-up game, 4-3.

At Fletcher Field in Collinsville, State Savings continued its near-amazing late season surge by topping Red Loop champion McMackin Buick 8-5 to become the division representative in the series for the President's Memorial Lucas cup. The series will begin in East St. Louis next Sunday.

Early McAteer Lead
Mercer, regular season Blue division titleholder, fell behind in the first inning when a single by Rich Ryan, a double by John Gernario, a walk and two fielders' choices put McAteer ahead 2-0.

The Granite City squad cut the lead in half in the fourth when Jerry Parnley was safe on an error and was forced out second by John Modruski who took second on a wild throw at first as McAteer attempted to complete a twin-killing. Modruski scored on Charles Johannmeier's single.

Johannmeier swiped second, but was left on when Roger Wells popped out. He got the decisive seventh rolling with a leadoff double, and this time Wells beat out a punt to put runners at first and third with nobody out. Wells was thrown out trying to steal second, Johannmeier holding third.

Mercer Ties Score
Bill Diak followed with a sacrifice fly, scoring Johannmeier and tying the game. After Catcher Clayton Harrison got a life at first on a McAteer error, winning pitcher Andy Angeloff helped himself along with a single which kept the inning going.

Toddy Gallus relieved starter and loser Clyde Blankenship at this point, and was promptly greeted with back-to-back singles.

single, Larry McCaskey also hit a Kovacic pinch runner for the fence.

Ralph Turley singled and Don Bruce followed with an RBI double. Kovacic walked Glen Gujhar, and in came Bill Johnson for Collinsville. Don Burns came up with a single to load the bases.

Mike McKinney's single plated Bruce, and John Adams kept the inning going for State Savings with another base hit, this time plating Gujhar with run No. 6. Burns was out at the plate trying to score on the play.

Carnegie Homers
State, which racked the McMackin mound corps for 14 safe hits, also scored single runs in the second and sixth frames. Catcher Dave Carnegie connected for a two-run homer in the eighth and the Buickmen made three hits good for two runs in the ninth.

Mercer and State Savings will meet Sunday at 2 p.m. on Jones Park Diamond No. 1 in East St. Louis in the first of a best two-out-of-three series for possession of the league president's cup.

Homers Are Wasted As Red Devils Falter, 11-9

Don Devany and John Corrie each socked three-run homers for Venice high school's baseball team Friday afternoon at Lee Park, but the Red Devils committed six costly errors and bowed to St. Paul of Highland 11-9 in a Madison-Bond-Clinton county conference game.

Both clubs collected 10 hits. The lone evened Venice's record at 2-2. Corrie started on the hill for Zain Wells' diamond nine, but the Highlanders jumped on him for four hits in the sixth, including one walk and two Venice miscues, they produced five St. Paul runs and gave the visitors an 11-6 lead at that point.

Larry Gray relieved Corrie and checked the Vikings in the seventh. Devany unloaded his three-run shot in the sixth to put Venice back in the game. Corrie hit for the circuit in the first. The remaining Red Devils runs crossed the plate in the third.

Bill Shambro paced Venice with three hits, Pete Fields had two, Gray, Jack Fields and Bill Austin one each.

Venice tackles Weselin of Trenton at Lee Park on Thursday afternoon. Game time is 4 p.m.

Braves Score Two Late Touchdowns, Stop Edwardsville In Opener, 18-13

Coolidge junior high school rallied with two fourth-quarter touchdowns here Thursday afternoon to turn back a freshman team from Edwardsville 18-13 in the home opener for Frank Kraus' Braves.

A 30-yard touchdown pass from Quarterback Bob Karandjeff to End Ron Yates and an end sweep by Jerry Nelson a few minutes later enabled the Braves to overcome a 13-6 deficit in the final period.

Halfback Jim Parker put the Granite City team in front early when he went 75 yards on a quick opener in the first quarter, but Edwardsville dominated play in the second and third periods, scoring twice and forcing the Braves to come from behind to win.

Parker also turned in a 60-yard TD run on a reverse but the play was called back when one of the Brave linemen was detected offside. Parker had to leave the game a few minutes later with an upset stomach, and Coolidge's running game suffered as a result.

Edwardsville tied the score at 6-6 in the second period when Halfback Jack Fish went the final 10 yards on a plunge up the middle. The visitors took a 13-6 lead in the third quarter when Fullback Bob Sorenson went off tackle for 11 yards and another score. Fish took a pithout and ran for the extra point.

The Braves drove inside the Edwardsville 20 in the third quarter, but were stalled there. They got a break by recovering a fumble on the visitor's 22, but a Karandjeff pass was intercepted on the 13 to halt another march.

A pass interception, engineered this time by the Braves, touched off the rally. The Braves took over on the Edwardsville 40 as the third quarter ended and drove to the 30, from where Karandjeff heaved his TD pass up the middle to Yates. A pass for the extra point was intercepted.

Edwardsville ran out of downs on its own 40 yard line moments later, and Jerry Nelson skirted right end for 29 yards to the Little Tigers' 11. He then came wide around the opposite end and scored standing up. The extra point try failed.

ICE SKATING RINK being prepared in Wilson Park near the junction of Benton street and Fehling road. The rink will provide an area in which to drain other low areas in the park.

Preparing For Winter

Ice Skating Rink Being Readied In Wilson Park

The fall season is only a few days old—but the Granite City park district already is preparing for winter ice skating.

A shallow pool basin, 200 feet in diameter, is being graded and packed in Wilson Park at the junction of Benton street and Fehling road, and upon its completion within a short time—the rest will be up to nature.

O. H. Williams, park superintendent, said the gunbo soil should hold the water, saving the district the expense of paving and curbing the pool.

Two-Fold Purpose

A ditch is being prepared leading to the pool from the vicinity of the Wilson Park office—garage, where storm water accumulates, and the pool is expected to serve a two-fold purpose—provide ice skating facilities and help solve drainage problems in the park.

Williams said that in the future, a catch basin is to be installed at the skating pool with a line to drain surplus surface water to the Fehling road lines which lead to the Nameoki ditch. "That way," Williams said, "we'll divert some of the surface water that runs to 27th street."

3 To 4 inches Deep

The pool is to be flooded with three to four inches of water for the skating season. Last year, a natural low area at the same location was flooded for ice skating and provided a rink for an off-and-on six-week period.

The park district last year had purchased a large plastic liner and set it up on a ball field to provide an outdoor ice skating rink. However, vandals damaged the plastic and the project was abandoned.

Also under consideration, but pigeonholed because of the cost, was development of a paved area for skating on artificial ice. The project under consideration would have cost $750,000 or more.

Sportsman's Club Wins Tavern Loop Softball Title; Playoff Pairings Set

Sportsman's Club won the season championship in the Tavern Loop softball league yesterday by downing Briggs Tavern 7-3 in a special play-off game at Lee Park. Both squads carried 14-4 records into the contest.

In another playoff encounter, this one to break a three-place deadlock, Jug's Hideaway measured Green Hall, 5-2. The two games had been scheduled for Saturday, but were postponed one day due to wet grounds.

Joe Viviano paced Sportsman's with a three-run homer. He drove in a total of four runs. Al Cavins and Bob Dant also hit for the circuit, and Chet Miller added a double. Jim Goodrich picked up the victory, with George Vivod behind the plate. Losing Pitcher Scott Minkins and Teammate Phil Kendle doubled for Briggs. Earl and Paul Thompson shared the catching chores. Jug's scored all of its runs in the sixth inning to avert defeat. Green Hall, with Pitcher Gene McCarty tripling and Carl Macias hitting a double, had carried a 2-0 lead into the sixth.

Hideaway rally with a two-run homer. Winning Pitcher Oren Harrison went 2-for-2 and Catcher Charles Standiford had a double. Frank Oris caught for Green Hall.

Dollar-dweller Clinton Tavern and ninth-place Home of the Blues bowed out of the post-season playoffs, which will begin next Sunday, when they forfeited to Club Delmar and Mary's Place. The playoff lineup matches Sportsman's and Polish Hall, Briggs and Bookie's Homestead, Jug's and Mary's Place, and Green Hall and Club Delmar.

To meet the housing needs of America's exploding population, some 13,500,000 privately financed new homes will be needed by America's families in the next ten years. Where will the billions of dollars to finance these homes come from?

Currently, Insured Savings and Loan Associations, like ours, are making more loans for the construction of homes than any other type of financial institution. During the 1960's the greatest demand for home financing will fall on Insured Savings and Loan Associations.

173 Cases Handled In Year By Madison Juvenile Bureau

In a well-documented analysis and report, augmented by statistics and tabulations, the Madison police department's juvenile bureau this week sketched in highlights of its work in crime prevention and its handling of youthful law violators.

The report, made under the direction of Youth Officer George Ramach and Chief Barney Fraundorf, lists principal causes of arrest and detention, shows that the incidence of juvenile delinquency rises to a weekly peak on Saturdays; and recites something of the philosophy of the bureau.

Commenting on the report, covering the city's fiscal year, and showing the disposition of 173 youths who were involved in crimes and misdemeanors, Madison Mayor Stephen Maurer, said: "It is truly an excellent report in its analysis and documentation."

"And it is not too bad — our picture as regards juvenile violations and violators, for which we can be thankful."

173 Juvenile Cases
The report of the juvenile bureau showed that during the 1953-54 fiscal year, 173 juveniles had been arrested or brought in for questioning for crimes and misdemeanors. Of these, 143 were placed under supervision.

Only 93 were residents of Madison. A total of 47 came from nearby communities, and 32 from outlying areas. There were 108 males and five females in the tabulation.

Following is a breakdown on some of the more prevalent violations and the number of violators:

Destruction of property, 11; trespassing, 14; held for investigation, 21; shoplifting, 10; burglary, 25; petty larceny, 20; truancy, 11; disorderly conduct, 12; fighting, 14; driver's violation, 4; throwing at cars, 3; attempted purse snatching, 2; prowling, 8; and runaways, 6.

Most in 12-15 Age Group
There were four arrests in the 8-year-old bracket. This jumped to 25 among the 12-year-olds and to a high of 31 for those 15, and there were an even dozen violators in the 17-year category.

Madison's juvenile bureau was set up in 1956, with this prime aim and objective: "For the police of the department to get closer to the children of our community, and also to try to prevent the youngsters in our community from having a criminal record."

"All the members of the department have worked at all times with this point in mind. We cooperate with all law enforcement agencies, school parents, and all other agencies." The report stressed the paramount need of a juvenile home in the county.

Neighborhood improvement starts with low-cost streets of soil-cement

Leads longer than any other low-cost street... and it's the fastest-laid pavement there is! Soil-cement can give your town good streets now. Soil-cement grows stronger year after year. It's the strongest pavement other than concrete. Many municipalities use it to widen or rebuild existing streets. Experienced crews using modern machines lay it a day. They just break up the old street, and mix it with portland cement and water. This is rolled solid and topped with a thin bituminous surface. Soil-cement means low cost. Usually, 75% of the materials are free! Maintenance stays low, too. Even the tightest budget can afford soil-cement. Booklet, "Don't Junk It—Soil-cement It," is yours for the asking.

Church Will Observe Bible Sunday

As part of the Bible Sunday emphasis the members of the church will be urged to read the Bible daily. The church plans to make a cash gift to the work of the American Bible Society. Also in keeping with Bible emphasis the church will introduce into its worship service, as a permanent part of the order of service, a ceremony of opening and closing the Bible.

Protest Meeting On Madison PTA Lockout Tonight

A meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 at the Temple Baptist Church, 714 McCambridge avenue, to protest the school board's decision of last week to lock Madison school buildings to a Madison school district Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. Edward Byrne, president of the PTA group, will attend the meeting and explain why she and other residents oppose the board's decision. If the school board's decision is upheld, the PTA group will be circulating petitions to ask that the school board reconsider its action.

Chairman of tonight's meeting was not announced. Mrs. Byrne said she is not in charge but will cooperate with citizens who feel the PTA group should be allowed to return to the school buildings.

A telephone committee made calls Saturday, Sunday and today urging Madison residents to attend the protest meeting. Parents taking the action after Sept. 26 will cooperate with citizens who feel the PTA group should be allowed to return to the school buildings.

The board has approved a "negative response" to an "all-school parent-teacher group" taking the action after Sept. 26. Wensel Brown said that he, principals and teachers believe it would harm "groups already on a sound foundation of service to the children in our schools."

Attorney Austin Lewis has advised the board that it has full control of school buildings and of which groups may meet in them.

That year were $229,966 — $76,348 operating costs, $222,622 maintenance, $36,129 publicity and traffic and $108,266 general administration. The $414,757 operating income was reduced to $389,653 net income with deduction of $45,104 for bond interest.

GOP Speaker Makes Pitch Before Daybreak Optimists

A Republican laid it on the line for the Daybreak Optimist Club Saturday morning at the YMCA, outlining GOP philosophy and tenets in a talk, "A Republican Looks at the Coming Election."

He was State Representative Ralph T. Smith, Alton, a former Granite City man who represents Madison county at Springfield. First, he thanked the Daybreakers for inviting him to speak on a partisan, controversial subject something most service club attempt to avoid, especially during an election year.

Smith got in some favorable "likes" for Vice-President Nixon and the state and county GOP candidates, and said humorously that the Tri-Cities, usually found in the Democratic column, "receive a little more light" on matters political.

The 17 at the breakfast welcomed a newcomer, Robert Modie, art teacher at Coolidge junior high school.

Two Street Cave-Ins In GC Over Weekend

Two street cave-ins were barricaded by the Granite City street department over the weekend, pending repairs today.

A section of concrete pavement in the 2100 block of Iowa street dropped several inches at the emergency room entrance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, and there was a small cave-in on the Johnson road curve.

clude the requirement that all state and federal health funds allocated to the county be expended properly.

Eight-Member Board

Decisions on which health services to conduct would be made by the eight-member board appointed by the county board of supervisors.

Proponents of the plan have cited the Madison county sanatorium as an example of a health agency operated efficiently in this county. Opponents point to politicians' influence on hiring and buying procedures in some publicly-operated hospitals and health districts.

State legislation providing for the health board, whose members serve staggered three-year terms, stipulates at least two physicians and one dentist. All eight serve without pay, other than reimbursement for actual necessary expenses incurred in performing their duties.

Any member may be removed for misconduct or neglect of duty by the chairman or county board president, with county board approval, and the entire department can be discontinued through a referendum initiated by petition.

Sanitation, Diseases

The health board elects its officers each April for the year beginning in July; meets quarterly and more often when needed; provides, equips and maintains offices, facilities and appliances; publishes free annual reports on its activities; enforces and observes all state laws on the preservation of health; investigates any contagious or infectious disease and adopts measures to arrest its progress; makes all necessary sanitary and health investigations and inspections; upon request, gives advice and information to cities, schools and townships on sanitation and public health; appoints professional employees meeting state requirements; and submits an annual budget and report to the county board.

In helping inaugurate the local effort last Spring Dr. Koch pointed out that "70% of the population in Illinois now has full-time health department services. Madison county is among the largest counties in Illinois and is expected to reach a population of 300,000 in the near future."

"Economic and social advances cannot be the sole criteria for measuring the success of a community. Population expansion and movement, and consequent scientific research are putting the squeeze on American communities to develop a third yardstick—health services."

Predict Lower Rate

Backers of the plan note that state and federal aid is available to help meet each year's expenses, and they predict that the annual levy would not exceed two and a half cents, or half of the maximum, "for many years."

The group says it believes that the department would provide services in the fields of maternal and child health, sanitation, communicable disease control, laboratory, health education, public health records, dental health and services for the aged.

"These educational and preventive services would be available to everyone in the county, regardless of financial status or residence. The estimated cost of these services, $1.20 per capita per year, is less than a half-cent a day. At a two-and-a-half-cent rate, the annual tax would be $2.50 on property assessed at $10,000," the group reports.

"This slight additional cost should be considered an investment in good government, good public health and a happier and healthier life for all. The department would hire experienced public health workers, including a sanitary engineer. Boards of education, public or parochial, could request school nursing services, which would be provided by the board of health without additional cost to the schools."

"The county health department can save your money and mine due to needless loss of time from work due to preventable disease or disability. No fee is ever charged, at any time, by any public health worker for public health services."

THE UNITED FUND'S employee's division campaign drive is already underway following a pep rally. Division volunteers had the benefit of talks last week by General (left) and Gilbert M. Sykes (standing) and Robert Gengler, who head up the industrial employee division.

Other organizations, the PTA, church groups and civic clubs are invited to join in the "See For Yourself" caravan.

Two complaints about boys throwing rocks were received by Venice police Thursday evening. Action On Oil, Coal Bids By Board Tuesday

With bids scheduled to be opened on payroll checks and a ventilating fan, the Granite City school board is expected to take action tomorrow night on two categories of bids already opened and tabulated—coal and fuel oil.

Supt. Harold M. Kaiser is to report on federal reaction to the board's addition of $13,744 to S. M. Wilson's $378,798 contract for general construction work on the Granite City high school additions. The amount was added earlier this month to cover construction, concrete work, sheet metal work and electrical work in installing a covered walkway from the new northern addition to the gymnasium building.

The district has now received $541,014 of the $601,128 federal grant used to construct the two additions, one of which was opened with the new school term this month. The other addition, containing both classrooms and vocational shops, is expected to be ready about Thanksgiving.

ROLE OF SALVATION ARMY

is an important one in many phases of local community life, as illustrated by these photographs.

The pictures at the top show an outdoor religious program conducted by the Salvation Army's Quad-City staff, and serving of refreshments from the mobile canteen. Firemen and auxiliary police are receiving coffee from Salvation Army personnel manning the vehicle.

The lower photograph depicts the Salvation Army's efforts to aid aged and infirm people through recreational and service programs. Other activities sponsored by the corps include athletics, children's recreation and music instruction and appreciation.

will open in October and will offer facilities four nights — Monday through Thursday — each week. Offering table tennis, shuffleboard, television and table games, the center will be supervised by the recreational director for the agency, Oral Winn.

New Group For Aged
The new group for the aged, called the Golden Agers club, will be open to any man or woman in the Quad-Cities over 65. Each month a luncheon and afternoon of recreation will be held for the members. No restrictions are made on membership in any of the agency activities, and no fees are charged.

Also monthly, women volunteers take free coffee, cake and toilet articles to patients at the Scott Air Force Base Hospital. The Salvation Army secures information about the missing through its weekly magazine, War Cry. When a person is searching for news about a relative or friend, he can insert an item in the missing persons column of the magazine for a dollar and then agency workers around the country check their files and local directories to find information.

The correctional service department of the Army visits prison inmates in an attempt to speed up rehabilitation. Jobs are found for men on parole, some working on agency trucks. A new organization being formed is the women's auxiliary. This group will be for women interested in civic improvement work.

A service for which the agency is unique is the aid it gives to stranded mothers and their children. Free lodging and food is offered at a St. Louis shelter for adult, deserted or indigent wives and their families.

Staff Of Seven
The local agency is operated by seven full-time employees. Besides Capt. Walker, the staff includes an office secretary and case-worker, Mrs. Linda Baird, a janitor, bus driver, a salesman of War Cry, truck driver and the recreation director, Oral Winn.

Capt. Walker came to the local organization in January from similar work in Indiana. She has been with the Salvation Army 17 years, formerly serving as a field officer and statistician.

Expenses include salaries for the seven workers, rent for the new recreation center, utilities, insurance, office supplies and educational material. Articles taken to the Scott Air Base Hospital are bought by the agency, as are the meals (bought through meal tickets) for transients. School bus and auto transportation are other items furnished. The largest single expense is the social welfare program.

This year, Salvation Army expenditures totaled $27,658, and $30,455 has been budgeted for 1961. Of this amount, $19,880 represents the tentative allocation from the local United Fund, an increase of $2627.

A United Fund Agency

Salvation Army Offers 10-Fold Program

The Salvation Army is aptly named. Locally, the agency offers an army of activities for youths and an army of relief aid for families in need.

It saves families from financial distress, elderly persons from the feeling of uselessness and those in distress from the threat of public ignominy.

The ten-fold local program offered by Salvation Army, supported by the United Fund, includes instruction and recreation opportunities for youth, care for mothers summer camp facilities for whole families, the aged and the blind social welfare assistance and a club for elderly persons.

Other provisions are a missing persons service, a correctional service for prison inmates and parolees, a group which entertains at Scott Air Force Base Hospital and a women's civic group.

Combining acumen with compassion, Captain Mildred Walker, the local Army administrative officer, handles the wide range of services with the same facility military officers handle maneuvers.

Welfare Program
The most prominent phase of

Salvation Army work in the Quad-Cities is the social welfare program. Through its service of temporary assistance to needy families and individuals, the agency each year provides for nine out of ten cases in which homes have been destroyed by fire.

It provides food, rent and fuel orders for those in emergency need, and last year distributed nearly $4000 worth of furniture. When sudden emergency strikes a family, Salvation Army is ready to assist immediately. In case of a general disaster, it works together with Red Cross to supply inclusive aid to the victims. Last year, 281 families were given assistance by the agency. Clothing and shoes are supplied to someone in need almost every day.

Tree Of Lights

For transients, the agency supplies lodging, meals and clothing. And at Christmas time, the "Tree of Lights" collection buys food baskets for indigent families, dinner and toys for the children. Last December, 3645 dinners were provided, enough to feed a small city.

For prospective mothers, the Army operates the Booth Memorial Hospital in St. Louis, where in the past few months nine girls from Madison county have found care for themselves and their babies. The service is run free from notoriety, with St.

Louis physicians and nurses staffing the hospital. With little or no cost to the girl, she and her baby are given complete prenatal and post-natal care as long as six weeks and the mother has full decision over the placing of her baby.

For youngsters, the agency of fers Sunday school instruction for boys and girls, aged eight through 18. Bible and church doctrine is taught on Sunday to two age groups, the Corps Cadets, 13 through 18, and the Dorectory, eight through 12. They also take a correspondence course supplied by the central office in Chicago.

Music Groups

For the Sunday ceremonies, the younger group furnishes the music with its youth band and vocal ensemble. All material and instruments are supplied by the agency, and the two groups plan to make outside engagements.

The Junior Legion for youths learns handicraft skills and attends devotion services.

The Salvation Army free summer camp program extends to every member of the family and many special groups. From mid-June through July, the camp at Bourbon, Mo., Camp Mihaska, bustles with children and teenagers. The Girl Guards sponsored by the agency spend 10-day trips at the camp. The younger girls, the Sunbeams, spend four days.

A former group for boys recently was incorporated into the Boy Scouts. During the winter months, each group carries on weekly meeting and regular activities.

Annual Camps

An annual music camp is held each summer to instruct band and vocal group members. At the Fellowship camp, youngsters are instructed in religious principles and are trained for leadership responsibilities.

An unusual camping opportunity offered by the agency each summer is the week's stay for mothers and children from congested areas where outdoor life is restricted. As with all the camps, they stay free of charge and they attend no classes of any kind.

For the often neglected aged and blind, the agency gives the chance for a week's stay away from their rooms and lonely surroundings. A new program for the aged is being initiated this year, as is a new recreation center for youngsters.

The new recreation center, to be located at 1834 State street,
